Mission statement

ANDANTE works, through its networks in Europe and through local initiatives, for the just participation of women in society and in the church, and for the common good of all people.

ANDANTE encourages and empowers Catholic women in Europe to reach their full potential, both in society and in spiritual life. It brings strength and inspiration to Catholic women in their daily lives and encourages them to be active in their communities and in the church.

ANDANTE contributes to a Catholic Church in Europe which is welcoming and liberating for all.

Role

The role of ANDANTE is: to inform, to consult, to coordinate and to represent. It will be a platform for Catholic women to express their ideas, to discuss them frankly and with trust, even if they arrive at different conclusions. We need to establish common values across our different cultures; we should be able to respond to current and emerging issues in a way that reflects Gospel values and our experience as women. We can offer the female vision of the Common Good.

ANDANTE, the European Alliance of Catholic Women's Organisations is a network of 22 Catholic Women's Organisations in Europe, representing a total membership of approximately 1,2 million women.

WHAT IS ANDANTE DOING?

ANDANTE helps Catholic women from all over Europe to meet each other, to understand each other in the different circumstances in which they live, to inform each other, to talk about what's in their heart, to support each other if possible, to reflect on themes that touch them, to speak out together, out of their common values and principles.

HOW DOES THIS LOOK IN PRACTICE?

Presence at the Conference of INGO's at the Council of Europe; website with recent activities; newsletters and study days for education and capacity building.

CAN I PARTICIPATE IN THE ACTIVITIES?

Yes! As a friend you'll get the newsletter and you'll get the announcements of the activities to come and information about other activities of Catholic Womens organisations. You can participate at the study days of ANDANTE at the same price as participants of member organisations.
